PART I · LEDGER SPREAD

WHAT THE MONTH WROTE DOWN

A daily equity walk across the month, paired with a reading of where the gain came from — realised, unrealised, and the dividend line.

FIG. 1 · MONTH-TO-DATE EQUITY WALK

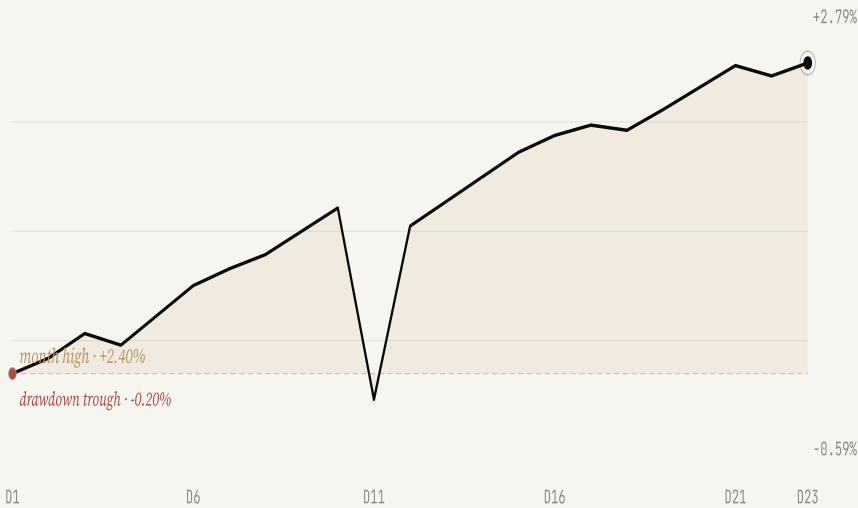

Fig. 1. Month-to-date cumulative return, daily close marks. Bronze dot marks the month high; oxblood marks the drawdown trough. The solid dot at the right edge is month-end close.

April recorded a net gain of 2.4% on invested capital, against a month that ran cool through the first week and accelerated through the middle ten sessions. The drawdown trough on Day 11 of -0.20% was shallow relative to the ninety-day envelope and recovered inside two sessions.

Of the month gain, realised P&L from closed lots contributed $3,420 across ten exits; unrealised P&L on open positions carries $8,210 at the month-end mark. Eight dividend events posted during the month for a combined $264 gross receipt. Fees and costs totalled $58, FIFO lot-matched.

PART IV · EDITORIAL

WHAT A LEDGER CANNOT SAY

A single line the desk is holding in mind for the month, and a short list of what the ledger expressly cannot settle for its reader.

A ledger is not a verdict. It is the month's handwriting — plain, careful, indifferent to meaning.
